

CHARLES B. HUNT, 70, IS FOUND DEAD HERE

FARM INSTITUTE NAMES C.D. CARR AS PRESIDENT

Officers for 1937 Are Elected at Business
Session Today

BUSINESS BUREAU TO GIVE PROGRAM

Will Present Entertainment Tonight At High School

Their program handicapped by Wednesday night's frigid blast, district grangers sponsoring the annual Farmers Institute here, carried on today at the Memorial building.

A curtailed program was carried out this morning at the session convened by Salem grange, with E. N. Van Blaricom in charge in the absence of John Shelton, institute president.

Officers Elected
Officers for the 1937 institute were elected during the business session, with C. D. Carr of Goshen, the present vice president, being named president. Glenn Bates of Perry grange was elected vice president and Mrs. Elizabeth Pow of Goshen continues as secretary-treasurer.

Eddie Pitting of Salem grange gave vocal selections this morning and talks were presented by H. E.
Stout on "Agricultural Frontiers,"
and Nathan N. Keener of the King School of Oratory, Pittsburgh, on "Things Worth While."

A playlet, regular feature of each session, was cancelled owing to the unavailability of Salem grange members in the east to attend.

Goshen grange will be in charge
this afternoon. Talks are scheduled by Keener, Mrs. Della Moats and Stout, with a playlet by Goshen grange members.

The Salem business bureau will be in charge of the final session
tonight, beginning at 8 at the high school auditorium.

An interesting program of entertainment has been arranged by the bureau. Carl Willman will lead group singing, with Mrs. Ray Bertholomew at the piano. Robert McGrath, magician, of Canton, will give an exhibition as one of the principal features of the entertainment. The program also includes selections by the Salem High school brass sextet; tap dance and gymnastics by Joanne Wise and an exhibition of drumming by Little Leo Copacica, Jr.

McSweeney Speaks

"When clubs in large cities gave their young members a conception of the obligations they owe their community, such as farm and rural societies do, their crime records will decrease, moral issues will rise to a higher plane and things will be better generally throughout the nation," John McSweeney of Wooster, former state welfare director, told members of the Salem Farmers institute Wednesday afternoon at the Memorial building.

McSweeney, speaking before a capacity audience in the building
estimated at about 500 persons, praised the farm institutes for the fine spirit of comradeship which they produce and for the type of examples for boys and girls.

The institute opened here yesterday, with several hundred farm folk braving a snow storm to attend the initial program. They came back again in the afternoon in even larger numbers. A great number, too, stayed with their families and had their lunch in the building.

GRANGE GROUPS PLANNING PLAY

Performances Friday and Saturday to Raise Institute Funds

Members of Perry, Salem, Goshen,
Mt. Nebo and Willow Grove granges will present a three-act play, "Phillip for Short," at 8 p. m. Friday and Saturday in the High school auditorium, in conjunction with the annual Salem Farmers institute.
The play is written and directed by Joanne Wise and an exhibition of drumming by Little Leo Copacica, Jr.

Husband and Wife Taken To Hospital

CLEVELAND, Jan. 23.—A paral-yzed wife kept a helpless vigil beside her stricken husband for 32
hours until help arrived last night.
The two were taken to a hospital where the husband was in a serious condition today.

Dr. Franklin M. Dumas, 74, the husband, suffered a stroke, induced by uremic poisoning, early Tuesday morning.

Two New Candidates In Political Field

COLUMBUS, Jan. 23.—Two more men entered Ohio's political races
today.

Dale Stump, former head of the claims department of the state industrial commission, announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for secretary of state
through the Van Wert county Republican central and executive committees.

Lightship Adrift

BOSTON, Jan. 23.—Wind of
"hurricane force" tore the Nantucket shoals lightship adrift from her moorings this morning. Captain George E. Eaton, district superintendent of the United States lighthouse service, reported.

Birth Anniversary Of I.O.O.F. Founder Observed by Lodges

A dinner and appropriate program afterward marked the observance last night of Thomas Wildie day by local Odd Fellows and associated bodies at the I. O.
O. F. hall on South Broadway.

The event, honoring the birthday anniversary of the founder of Odd Fellowship in America, opened with a dinner at 6:30, served by the Daughters of Rebekah to about 125 guests. Guests included members of Amity lodge No. 124, I. O. O. F., Home lodge No. 110, Daughters of Rebekah, Goodwill encampment
No. 111, Salem canton No. 11 and Ladies auxiliary of canton No. 8.

Remarks were heard from Charles Kidd of East Liverpool, district
deputy grand master, District
No. 28, and an address was given by Atty. Samuel W. Crawford of East Liverpool on "Odd Fellowship, Past and Present."

Musical entertainment consisted of instrumental and vocal numbers.
Allen West, violinist, played several selections, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. West. Fred Hutson, accompanying by Miss Junia Jones,
sang two solos, followed by two vocal duets by Miss Apne Painter and Stewart Painter, with piano accompaniment by Miss Margaret Kirkbride. Miss Painter offered a vocal solo, accompanied by Miss Kirkbride. Mrs. John Hundert-mark concluded the program with several piano arrangements.

DYNAMITE FIRE

Explosive Used By Firemen to Halt $50,000 Blaze at Amsterdam Today

STEUENVILLE, Jan. 23.—Firemen used dynamite early today to halt the spread of a $50,000 fire which razed two stores and beer
parlor at Amsterdam, 16-miles northwest.

Firemen from Amsterdam, Carrollton and Steubenville made little progress against the blaze in 20 below zero temperatures and blasted the buildings when flames threatened to spread through the town of 3,000.

Mayor George Turzey estimated the loss. His brother, John, who discovered the fire, suffered frozen hands and feet.

The M. D. West Meat Market, a Kroger store and the Greenberg
beer parlor were in ruins.

Millionth Old Age Check Is Written

COLUMBUS, Jan. 23.—The state auditor's office issued today its millionth old age pension check.
It was for $12 to Ida M. Fox of Apple Creek. Check No. 1 was written July 1, 1934 and since then the state has distributed $14,250,000 to needy aged.

BIRTHDAY BALL IN CITY JAN. 30

Several Parties Planned;
Illness of Beardmore
Has Delayed Plans

Completion of arrangements for the annual Birthday ball for the President has been delayed somewhat owing to the illness of Postmaster A. E. Beardmore, who general chairman.

The occasion will be observed in several places in the city on Thursday evening, Jan. 30.

Salem lodge No. 305, B. P. O.
Elks, has postponed its regular meeting on that date in order to permit the birthday observance at their home. There will be a dance at the building on Vine st., formerly owned by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and now known as the Old Homestead.

Another party will take the form of a dance to be held Thursday afternoon of that day at the High school on North Lincoln ave., between 3:30 and 6 p. m.

Rotarians, whose program calls
for work among crippled children, are especially interested in the event.

Lewis Candidate For Commissioner

Gomer Lewis of Lisbon today announced he will be a candidate for county commissioner on the Republican ticket at the primaries
May 12.

Two years ago he was a candidate for the same office, finishing in a runner-up position.

Oh, For The Life of a Phone Operator On a Zero Morning

Or, To Be Exact, 15 Below Zero; Taxi Offices, Garages, Plumbers Swamped With Calls

What happens when the mercury slips off to 15 or 20 degrees below zero?

To say that a mild state of confusion reigns would be putting it mildly. It also proves the extent to which people place dependence upon conveniences of the day.

The telephone office for instance. The average individual may wonder just why the calls for taxi,
for the plumber, for the next door neighbor, for the garage, were not answered this morning with, perhaps the usual snap.

Here's an answer to that: Miss Nora Pink, supervisor at the local exchange, says that the Salem exchange handles on the average of 12,000 calls in a 24-hour period.
This figure, she estimates, will come pretty close to doubling before midnight tonight.

The avalanche started when the mercury started to falling last night. Mrs. Minnie Bush, night chief, was on the job. "It was the worst, I believe, that I've ever

AGED WOMAN IS FIRE VICTIM IN EAST LIVERPOOL

Daughter Is Burned As She Attempts To Rescue Mother

STATE PARALYZED IN GRIP OF COLD

No Relief In Sight Until Tomorrow, Weather
Officials Say

Ohio struggled feebly today to free itself from the paralyzing grip
of a record-breaking cold wave.
Normal outside operations were virtually suspended in many sections. After a night of suffering fears of a heavy death toll were expressed by authorities.

At East Liverpool, Mrs. Mary Shamp, 84, was dead today as a result of burns suffered last night when her clothing ignited from a grate fire which she was building.
She died in the East Liverpool City hospital. Her daughter, Mrs. Clarence Moore, sustained severe burns about the hands and arms as she tried to beat out the flames.

Whistling winds, deep snow and thermometer readings of 12, 15 and 18 below zero were common throughout the state. Troy reported an unofficial minus 24 degrees.

Relief Is Delayed
No relief was in sight until tomorrow at least. Hundreds of needy families faced the prospect of spending another night with the sub-zero cold sifting into their flimsy dwellings.

Today rural schools were empty;
automobiles stood abandoned on drifted highways and icy city streets; buses, planes and trains moved haltingly; scores of early-morning fires broke out; residents kept vigil over furnaces and stoves.

Numbered highway crews made slow progress against drifts 10 to 16 feet high in places.

The night brought terror, death
and dramatic rescues.

Six hundred school children were marooned in buses or class rooms,
half of them rescued by volunteer parties and the rest forced to remain away from home. One person was missing after three men and a woman had been guided to safety
by the Perry memorial beacon at Put-in-Bay, on South Bass island.

One death was attributed to the cold and two persons were killed in traffic.

Three hundred children slept on benches and seats in the Staunton centralized school near Troy while 14 teachers stood guard. Snow plows were clearing the roads and the children expected to return home
today.

Rescued From Bus

Forty children were rescued from a bus between St. Clairsville and Glencoe by farmers in bobsleds.
Other volunteers rescued 40 from a stranded bus near Rock Hill and a score from a bus near Centerville.
15 miles south of St. Clairsville.
Two bus loads containing 60 children were stranded near Fairpoint.
A dozen pupils in Butler township, near Dayton, were trapped for two hours. Four high school girls, a teacher and one boy spent the night in an Urbana township school. Thirteen children were rescued from a stranded bus near Terre Haute school.

In Putnam county, 16 miles northwest of Findlay, 18 students stranded for four hours made their way to safety in a farm house.

Some of the pupils suffered from frostbite.

Guided by the rays of Perry memorial beacon, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mauler, George Burrow and Ethel
Fox plodded a mile across Lake Erie

City Numbed by Worst Cold Wave in Years; School Bus Stranded; Mercury 16 Below

Two Deaths Recorded In County, School Attendance
Is Curtailed, Plumbers Kept Busy and Winona
Says 24 Below Zero

Salem and Columbiana county suffered along with the rest of the nation today from one of the worst cold spells in recent years. Residents huddled indoors near warm firesides as the wind howled around buildings and sent snow swirling into every nook and crevice.

Two deaths in the county were attributed indirectly to the sub-zero weather.

The lowest temperature in Salem, reported by officials at the city disposal plant, was recorded last night when the mercury tumbled to 16 below. A similar reading was observed in the southern part of the county, at East Liverpool and Wellsville.

24 Below at Winona
Residents at Winona reported low temperatures of 18 and 24 below.
The Winona mill owners recorded the 24 below record.

Janitors came to work early in the public schools this morning and had the buildings well heated in time for opening classes today, Supt.
E. S. Kerr announced. The only difficulty experienced was in heating two rooms in the Columbia st.
school, he said.

The cold weather, however, kept
many pupils at home, school officials announced after checking absentee reports. A total of 188
students were not in their classes
at the High school, Principal Wilbur Springer said. Eighty pupils were absent from the Junior High school.

Only three of the six school buses used to transport district pupils to public schools here, were able to find roads passable enough to bring boys and girls to school this morning, Supt. Kerr said.

Federal WPA projects in the city were suspended today. Relief clients who were out to work this morning shoveling snow in an attempt to clear East State st., in the downtown section, were recalled after the men found the weather far too cold.

Mayor George Harroff declared
the work is necessary but felt that
"there's no need of the men freezing" in doing it.

An overheated pipe set fire to a partition in the home of Joseph Barnes, 762 West Pershing st., at 10:20 a. m. today. Firemen answered the alarm and extinguished the blaze.

Miss Laura Abel of R. D. 4, Salem, was admitted to the Central Clinic at 8:30 a. m. today, for treatment for frozen feet which she suffered while waiting for a bus to bring her to work in Salem. She was removed to her home before noon.

County Workers Busy

About the county 50 state highway employes with trucks, working in two shifts, labored all night long, keeping drifts cleared from the main highways. Snow was reported piled to the top of the emergency drift fences.

Rural schools throughout the district were closed today. Both the

Jones Rumored for Morgenthau's Post

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Democrats in congress reported today
they had heard from apparently
"authentic" administrative sources
that Jesse Jones, RFC chairman,
may become secretary of the treasury.

It was said that Henry Mergenthau, present secretary of the treasury, may be made a confidential adviser to the President.

One congressman, who keeps abreast of developments in government financial circles, said he was reasonably sure the change already has received some consideration from President Roosevelt. Another added that it was "a 100-to-1 shot that it is under consideration."

The reports were discounted to some extent, however, by the fact that that the President has just renominated Jones for two more years as chairman of the reconstruction finance corporation.

Jones was an appointee of President Hoover. He handled billions of dollars of loans to aid private enterprise in the depression.

Shooting Probed

PORTSMOUTH, Jan. 23.—Two brothers were shot mysteriously
George Bowens, 24, in the chest, and Milton, 21, in the leg, and only left to die in a snow drift last night
near the Scioto-Lawrence county line.

Authorities from both counties
began an investigation while George Bowens received treatment for ex-posure.

INDUSTRIALIST, RETIRED, IS HIT BY TWO AUTOS

Leetonia Driver Finds Victim's Body Near
City Hospital

WAS ENROUTE TO HOME OF HIS SON

Associated with Buckeye
Engine Co., Bliss Co.,
Before Retiring

Columbiana County Coroner R.
M. Patterson withheld his verdict today following an investigation of the death at 6:15 p. m. Wednesday of Charles B. Hunt, 70, retired Salem industrialist.

Hunt's body was found on East
State st., not far from the City hospital, after it had been struck by at least two automobiles. The possibility that he may have succumbed from a heart attack prior to being struck by the automobiles is being considered in the coroner's investigation.

Mrs. Hunt was in Cleveland, visiting at the home of a daughter, Mrs. L. H. Orbaugh. Hunt, who lives at 113 East State st., was enroute to the home of his son, Nathan Hunt, at 2051 East State st.,
beyond the hospital, for dinner.

Enroute, it was necessary for the elder Hunt to leave the sidewalk and continue along the street for a short distance to a point where the sidewalk was torn up for installation of a city water line.

Merle Davis, of 342 Somer st., Leetonia, enroute east in his automobile, said he saw a form on the ground but was unable to steer clear in time. He stopped his car
a short distance beyond the point.

In the meantime, another car, following Davis', struck the body but continued on.

Martha Bailer, a nurse, who chanced to be walking along the sidewalk nearby, said she heard a noise as Davis' automobile went by
and then saw the second car pass,
also.

The Leetonia driver picked up the prostrate form and summoning aid, carried it into the hospital.

An examination disclosed a crushed
skull, a broken right arm and wrist,
and cuts over the face.

Police Chief R. N. Stoffer, Patrolman Nerr Gaunt and State Highway Patrolman P. S. Van
Allen investigated. Davis was not detained.

Hunt, born here May 17, 1865,
was a lifelong resident of Salem.

Early in his life he became associated with the Buckeye Engine Co., serving as superintendent of construction. Later, when the E. W.
Bliss Co. took over the Buckeye Engine Co., Hunt continued with the firm in the capacity of mechanical engineer. He remained with the Bliss Co. until 1925, when he retired.

He and his son, Nathan Hunt,
founded the C. B. Hunt & Son machine shop in 1919. Seven years later, Nathan Hunt purchased his father's interest and has continued
the operation of the plant, which manufactures machinery, specializing in pressure specialties.

Charles Hunt was a member of all branches of the Masonic organization in Salem, the 32nd degree and Shrine in Cleveland. He had been very active in Masonic work here for many years.

In addition to his wife, he leaves his son, Nathan; a daughter, Mrs. L. H. Orbaugh of Cleveland; a sister, Mrs. Jesse Sturgeon, of Salem; and four grandchildren.

Arrangements for the funeral
had not been completed today.

Fireman Killed By Collapse of Wall

PARIS, Ill., Jan. 23.—A fireman was killed and three other men were injured today by collapse of a wall during a fire in the business district here.

The wall fell near the end of a five hour fight against the fire in below zero weather. The fireman killed was Dewey Elliott. Injured were another fireman, the police chief and a patrolman.

Woman Admits She Gave Poison Dose

MINEOLA, N. Y., Jan. 23.—In a low, hesitant voice, Mrs. Mary Frances Creighton, being tried on charges of first degree murder in the poison death of Mrs. Everett Applegate, admitted on the stand today she had administered a poison potion to the woman.

Jail Escape Fails

PORTSMOUTH, Jan. 23.—Night
Jailer George Butler said today
he caught George Davis sawing bars
in the Scioto county jail while Walter Roberts, another prisoner, played a French harp.

Body Recovered

LOUISVILLE, Colo., Jan. 23.—The body of Fireboss Steve Davis was Monarch coal mine today.

Five Circles of M.E. Church Hold Meets

Mrs. E. B. Protheroe entertained members of Circle 1 at a 1 o'clock luncheon Wednesday afternoon at her home on East Seventh st. Mrs. Carl Willman led the devotions and Mrs. Willerton gave a paper on "The Origin of Hymns". A short business meeting followed.

Miss Clara Scott led the devotions at the meeting of Circle 2 held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Irving Megrall on East Third st. Mrs. Clyde Beck and Mrs. Richard Dudley were in charge of the program for the session, attended by 12 members and three guests. After the meeting Mrs. Megrall served a lunch, assisted by her associate hostesses, Mrs. Floyd Duncan and Mrs. E. F. Gibbs.

Circle 3 postponed its luncheon-meeting.

Mrs. William Reed was hostess to associates of Circle 4 yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. M. Day, on Franklin st. Mrs. Margaret Scott led the devotions, which were followed by the business session. Mrs. Edwin Smith had a paper on "Indian Lore of Blankets and Baskets". After the session Mrs. Reed and Mrs. Day served lunch.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. E. F. Naragon on Woodland ave.

Circle 5 members enjoyed a luncheon at the church yesterday. The meeting, scheduled to follow the luncheon, was cancelled.

The circles will meet again Feb. 26, places for the meetings to be announced.

Harris Class Has Benefit Party

Harris class members of the Christian church entertained friends at a benefit party Tuesday evening at the church, about 150 persons attending. A delightful program was presented during the evening in the church rooms, which were attractively decorated for the affair in winter scenes. Tables were appointed in silver and white with lighted candles as features of the decorations. Evergreen trees and boughs carried out the motif of the decorations.

Rev. C. F. Evans and Willis Boone, teacher of the class, made short talks followed by two violin solos by Gusta Conja. His selections were "Humoresque" and "Flower Song". Fred Hutton, accompanied by Miss Junnie Jones at the piano, sang two numbers and Mrs. Merle Stratton gave a musical reading, accompanied by Gusta Conja. Other features of the program were two one-act plays presented by several members of the Community Club Players. The first included Mrs. Lowell Brown, Miss Ruth Moff, Miss Mary Burke and Charles Stewart.

A lunch was served at the conclusion of the entertainment. Mrs. Wilbur Lyons acted as mistress of ceremonies last night introducing the entertainers.

Eight O'clock Club Is Entertained

Miss Clara Barber was winner of the trophy in "500" Tuesday evening when Mrs. Glen Zimmerman entertained associates of the Eight O'clock club at her home on the Damascus rd. Two tables were in play during the evening and after the cards the hostess served a lunch to the club and invited guest, Mrs. Willard Zimmerman.

Mrs. W. L. Gray will entertain the group in two weeks at her home on the Benton rd.

WESTWOOD CASE NEARING JURY

Pittsburgh Man Accused Of Slaying Wife, To Know Fate Soon

(By Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 23. — The state struck its final blows today at Squire James J. Westwood's defense to the charge he killed his wife, with a possibility the jury may get the case before tonight.

After attorneys for the 42-year-old McKees Rocks justice of the peace rested their case, Prosecutor Chauncey Pruger opened his rebuttal with an attempt to discredit testimony of the squire's 20-year-old daughter, Bertha.

Mrs. Martha Westwood, 38-year-old mother of three children, was slain last July 10. The state charged Westwood left a roadhouse party, drove to his home and fired three shots into his wife's body.

Mrs. Eleanor Winkler, Bertha's "Aunt Ella," testified as a rebuttal witness that Westwood's attractive daughter tried to induce Mrs. Winkler to change a story she told detectives shortly after the slaying.

The "story" referred to concerned remarks by Mrs. Winkler that just shortly before Mrs. Westwood was slain the squire had a smaller bulb placed in a night lamp in his wife's room. Mrs. Winkler said Bertha had asked her:

"Are you going through with that statement?"

The witness said she replied in the affirmative and Bertha then said:

"Then I'll have to make you out a liar, Aunt Ella."

Bertha was a defense witness, testifying to her father's actions

FARM INSTITUTE NAMES LEADERS

Officers for 1937 Are Elected at Business Session Today

Speaking from knowledge gained when he was state welfare director, McSweeney yesterday pointed to the fact that among the men and women admitted to state reform schools, none was found to ever have belonged to rural 4-H clubs. "The crime leaders of today come from larger cities and not the smaller communities or rural sections," he added.

High Respect For Laws

The farmers seem to have a higher respect for laws and regulations, the speaker said, and their children are taught accordingly. McSweeney also praised the Boy Scouts of America in his talk.

Fifty-three percent of the sick in the world today at any given time, excluding epidemic periods, are mentally ill, McSweeney said. And, he added, only five percent of the doctors in the world are interested in mental diseases.

This remark was interjected in his address as he reviewed welfare work in Ohio. "We should help the other fellow—the unfortunate," he said.

Also included in yesterday afternoon's program was a peace talk, "A Word that Moves the World," by Mrs. Lowell Mountz, an address by Mrs. Della Monte, state speaker, on "My Ohio," a reading, "My First Trip" by Mrs. Ralph Huston, and a vocal duet featuring Martha and Hazel Farmer. Rev. A. C. Westphal gave the invocation.

"Uncle Dick's Mistake" was the title of a play presented by Perry grange, starring Raymond Fawcett, Robert Lantz, Sherman Spindell, Garbetta Lentz and Mrs. Wilbur Weber.

Attendance at last night's session dropped considerably along with the thermometer. Mr. Nebo grangers, who were to have charge of the program phoned in and reported they were snow-bound.

Addresses Given

However, an address on "Dad's Day" was presented by Mrs. Moats, and H. E. Stout delivered an address titled, "Acres of Diamonds."

First, second and third prize awards in the poster contest were made known by the judges last night.

The winners in the fifth and sixth grade group are: First, Mildred Hinchliffe of Center school; second, Beatrice Zeppernick, Center school, and third, Marjorie Steer of Goshen Township High school, Damascus.

Seventh and eighth grade winners are: First, Lois Jane McArthur, Fairview school; second, Helen Hofmeister, Center school, and third, Clarence E. Millikin, Fairview school.

after Mrs. Westwood was found shot to death in her bed. In her testimony the daughter said that "there wasn't a finer father in the world" than Westwood.

The prosecution had but a few rebuttal witnesses left before arguments in the case begin.

Westwood himself was recalled by Pruger for further cross-examination, and denied new points brought up by the prosecution.

Pruger asked:

"Didn't you tell Frank Ritz (county detective) that you didn't care who killed your wife?"

"That's absolutely untrue," was Westwood's reply.

Victorious Huey Long Lieutenant to Push Drive on New Deal Administration

(By Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, La., Jan. 23. — The victorious primary slate of the late Huey Long's lieutenants declared in statements today the senator's fight on the Roosevelt administration would be pushed, with the share-the-wealth program as the spearhead of attack.

Returns from half of the state's precincts gave the Long ticket more than 100,000 votes majority for senator, governor and other state offices. Nomination is equivalent to election.

Gerald L. K. Smith, national organizer of the shun-the-wealth society, said headquarters would be set up in Washington preparatory to starting campaigns in several southern states.

Long had planned to use the groups as a political organization in his quest of the presidency. Smith already has announced he will be a candidate for president in the Georgia preferential primary if one is called.

Gov. O. K. Allen, who was nominated to serve the unexpired term of Long, charged the Roosevelt administration had used federal money and relief jobs in fighting the Long organization.

"This stupendous victory for the people in Louisiana is positive disapproval of the Roosevelt new deal and its alphabetical slush fund," he said.

KING ESCORTS FATHER'S BODY

Late British Monarch Is Borne Through Streets For Last Rites

By BURDETTE JOHNS.
Copyright, 1935, By The Associated Press

LONDON, Jan. 23.—Through the grey London streets along which he passed in triumph eight months ago, King George V returned in death today.
The same crowds of loyal subjects lined every foot of the route, the same standards fluttered from every building, but somber black replaced the colorful summer array of the jubilee celebrations and the flags flew at half staff.
No pageantry now
This time no pageantry of brilliant uniforms marked the monarch's way. There were but few troops in evidence. Six thousand blue-helmeted police alone lined the route from the king's cross railroad terminus to ancient Westminster hall.
The new 41-year-old King Edward VIII and other members of the immediate royal family accompanied the body from Sandringham, where 70-year-old King George died Monday night.
An honor guard of 10 giant Grenadier guardsmen, each 6 feet 3 inches in height, and a dozen artillerymen—an escort for the funeral gun carriage—provided the sole touch of color for the hour-and-a-half procession.
The imperial crown was brought to lie atop the royal standard covering the coffin.
At Westminster hall, the white-haired Archbishop of Canterbury, accompanied by the Earl Marshal, and the Lord Great Chamberlain, waited with the heralds, pursuivants and court officials.
Here, for the first time, the trappings of state were in evidence. Bearded yeomen of the guard in crimson and gold, with their pikes reversed, and the honorable corps of gentlemen-at-arms, with the points of their halberds touching the ground, made a splash of color

John D. Looks Forward at 96

John D. Rockefeller permitted a beach snapshot photographer to make this picture of him while out for a drive at Ormond Beach, Fla., the other day. The Oil King, who will celebrate his 97th birthday next July, inquired as to the status of the photographer's business and complimented him on his enterprise.

around the purple-draped catafalque, flanked by four candles.
With four members of both houses of parliament and a white-robed choir grouped nearby, the Archbishop of Canterbury, who attended King George at his death, prepared to hold a brief service.
To Lie in State
The dead sovereign will lie in state until Tuesday, when he will be buried at Windsor.
Tomorrow will begin the great national pilgrimage through Westminster hall, in the west wing of the palace which houses the house of commons and the house of lords. Westminster abbey stands across the street.
Military officials arranged to handle possibly one million persons in the hall while the king lies in state.
Today's procession started at the little church on the royal estate at Sandringham, 100 miles north-east of London, to which King George's body was taken Tuesday.
The sovereign's sons knelt last night in prayer before the bier.
At Wolferton station, two and a half miles from the church, the body was borne to a nine-car train drawn by an express engine. "King George V." for the trip to London.
The cars and engine were draped in purple and black.
Discussions concerning a possibility that King Edward address a radio message to his people immediately after the funeral were being carried on by members of the privy council.
No decision was reached, but if such a speech is made, it will last about 10 minutes and be relayed throughout the world.

MUSSOLINI HITS 5-POWER PACT

Leading Powers Agree To Mutual Assistance In War Event

By ROY P. PORTER.
Associated Press Staff Writer.

Premier Mussolini carried his diplomatic war controversy deeper into the League of Nations council today by striking out against the five-power mutual aid agreement and British naval maneuvers in the Mediterranean.
One of his spokesmen asserted the British leader would protest the assistance pacts of Great Britain, France, Turkey, Greece and Yugoslavia as an "anti-Italian Alliance."
He was further reported ready to criticize concentration of British warships near the scene of fighting in the Italian-Ethiopian war.
While these diplomatic campaigns took definite form, a new committee was called to consider the proposed oil-coal-steel-iron embargo against the aggressor nation in the East African conflict. Its deliberations concerned principally the potential effectiveness of such measures in retaliation for the fascist invasion of the Ethiopian kingdom.
At Paris President Albert Lebrun labored to discover a successor to former Premier Pierre Laval whose cabinet stepped down after political criticism of vacillating foreign policies.
Four political leaders had already turned down the proposal to name a new cabinet—Jules Jeanneney, president of the senate, Fernand Bouisson, president of the chamber of deputies, and Edouard Herriot, former premier and recently minister of state, and Yvon Delbos, president of the chamber's radical socialist group.
Reports from the actual war frontiers carried conflicting news of Italian victories vigorously denied by Ethiopian sources.
The mutual aid agreements which brought Italy's prospective denunciation were disclosed yesterday by British foreign minister Anthony Eden. They provide a pooling of military, naval and aerial resources in event of any Italian attack.

ASSEMBLY MEET IS NEARING END

Senate Conferees Agree On $10,500,000 Relief Set-Up

COLUMBUS, Jan. 23.—Cracking tempers, general chafing, achievement of a compromise relief program, and reports of progress in solution of the state finances problem presaged today an early end to the special session of the legislature which convened Sept. 18 "for a few days."

As echoes of shouts of "Hear!" died in the house chamber house and senate conferees agreed last night on a $10,500,000 relief set-up to last to July 31.
To Clean Up Matters
Out of a house rules committee meeting came reports, mingled with informal but emphatic assertions by some legislators that this was the last week of the session, that Democratic leaders had promised Republican members to have the house finance committee report the $9,285,076 biennial budget bill out immediately.
Both houses, legislators said, will dispose of the two urgent controversial, long-standing problems tonight.
With them out of the way, only a few minor items would stand before a long-awaited vacation. However, Gov. Martin L. Davey's approval of the budget bill is uncertain. Many believed he would trim it by $800,000.
The relief compromise would allow counties which have not yet issued Carey act utility excise bonds to draw against a $2,500,000 rotary fund until March 31. If no special election on Carey bonds had been held, the counties would submit such issues to a vote at any special election held before the May 12 primaries.
Would Approve Bonds
All state grants would stop if a county did not approve the bonds and were unable to repay advances from the rotary fund by June 1. After that date, all counties would contribute 25 per cent of total relief costs.
A four-member state relief commission would administer the funds. Commissioners would receive $250 monthly each. Overhead would be limited to 4 per cent for the commission and 5 per cent for counties.

Frank Hawley, 83, died at 4 p.m. Wednesday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. Dale Reilly, in Minneapolis. Salem relatives have been advised. He had been ill of pneumonia only a short time.
Mr. Hawley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Caleb Hawley, was born near Guilford and for several years was editor of a newspaper in Wellsville. Later he was employed in the office of the Stevenson foundry at Wellsville until his retirement several years ago. He had made his home in Chester W. Va., until five years ago when he went with his daughter, Mary, to make their home in Minneapolis. He is survived by his daughter and one sister, Mrs. Josephine Crosser of Lisbon. Several first cousins reside in and near Salem.
Funeral service will be held Friday afternoon in Minneapolis, with burial in that city.
Counties would receive allocations on the basis of population and relief requirements in the first six months of 1933. The state auditor could be ordered to investigate a county's relief needs and report to the commission.
One of the bill's co-authors, Rep. Bishop Kilpatrick (D., Trumbull), a conference committee member, refused to sign the compromise report because of the state auditor provision. He wanted the relief commission to have sole authority.
The shout of "Hear!" nearly precipitated a fist fight between House Speaker J. Freer Bittinger and House Republican Leader William M. McCulloch of Piqua during a discussion of the relief problem.
McCulloch accused Bittinger of "breaking faith" with the house by insisting on retention of certain provisions in the relief bill. He said conferees were to have a "free hand" in dealing with the senate.
"You're a ——— liar!" Bittinger shouted.
"You're a ——— liar yourself," red-haired McCulloch retorted, "and I can prove it by six witnesses."
Later Bittinger went to McCulloch's seat. Members sitting nearby said the speaker apologized.
To clean up items not provided for in the new revised biennial budget bill, Chairman William H. Herner of the senate finance committee introduced a $758,470 sundry claims bill for unpaid 1935 bills resulting from Davey's $8,785,000 vetoes in the original budget bill.

DEATHS

FRANK HAWLEY
Frank Hawley, 83, died at 4 p.m. Wednesday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. Dale Reilly, in Minneapolis. Salem relatives have been advised. He had been ill of pneumonia only a short time.

Mr. Hawley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Caleb Hawley, was born near Guilford and for several years was editor of a newspaper in Wellsville. Later he was employed in the office of the Stevenson foundry at Wellsville until his retirement several years ago. He had made his home in Chester W. Va., until five years ago when he went with his daughter, Mary, to make their home in Minneapolis. He is survived by his daughter and one sister, Mrs. Josephine Crosser of Lisbon. Several first cousins reside in and near Salem.
Funeral service will be held Friday afternoon in Minneapolis, with burial in that city.

Counties would receive allocations on the basis of population and relief requirements in the first six months of 1933. The state auditor could be ordered to investigate a county's relief needs and report to the commission.
One of the bill's co-authors, Rep. Bishop Kilpatrick (D., Trumbull), a conference committee member, refused to sign the compromise report because of the state auditor provision. He wanted the relief commission to have sole authority.
The shout of "Hear!" nearly precipitated a fist fight between House Speaker J. Freer Bittinger and House Republican Leader William M. McCulloch of Piqua during a discussion of the relief problem.
McCulloch accused Bittinger of "breaking faith" with the house by insisting on retention of certain provisions in the relief bill. He said conferees were to have a "free hand" in dealing with the senate.
"You're a ——— liar!" Bittinger shouted.
"You're a ——— liar yourself," red-haired McCulloch retorted, "and I can prove it by six witnesses."
Later Bittinger went to McCulloch's seat. Members sitting nearby said the speaker apologized.
To clean up items not provided for in the new revised biennial budget bill, Chairman William H. Herner of the senate finance committee introduced a $758,470 sundry claims bill for unpaid 1935 bills resulting from Davey's $8,785,000 vetoes in the original budget bill.

Mercury Topples To 16
Below Zero; Winona
Says 24 Below

Reading at 3:30 a. m. in Lisbon today showed 24 degrees below.

Twenty motorists were served hot coffee at the home of Isaac Kirk on the Salem-Lisbon rd. this morning as they waited for highways to be cleared, it was reported.

The lowest temperature at Da-masus early today was reported at 20 degrees.

A Stark Electric railway car, riding the rails in a blinding snowstorm early last evening, crashed into an unoccupied automobile that had stalled on the tracks, just north of Damascus.

The driver of the machine, Harold Latham, got out of the auto and tried to flag down the approaching interurban but the snow prevented the motorman from seeing the machine. Latham, driving the car of Mrs. W. P. Carpenter, was attempting to get into the driveway of Albert Borton's residence when the accident happened.

Maybe The Answer To Your Bonus Question Is Here

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Here are answers to some questions frequently asked in connection with the bill to pay off adjusted service (bonus) certificates in cashable $50 bonds.

Q. If I hold a certificate, how do I apply for bonds?

A. An application may be filed with the veterans' administration in Washington at any time before the certificate matures in 1945. A veteran may send his application personally or through a representative prescribed in regulations yet to be issued.

Q. If I haven't applied for a certificate, may I do so?

A. Yes. The application should be sent to the same place.

Q. Suppose death intervenes after application for bonds is made?

A. The application will be valid if the veterans' administration finds it bears the bona-fide signature of the applicant and discloses an intention to claim the benefits of the act. If death occurs after application is filed but before receipt of bonds, the bonds will go to the estate of the veteran.

Q. What happens after bond applications are filed?

A. The veterans' administration will certify to the treasury the amount of $50 bonds due a veteran. The amount will be the full 1945 maturity value of the certificate minus the principal of any loans outstanding against it and any unpaid interest accrued prior to Oct. 1, 1931. If a veteran owes any interest for loans after Oct. 1, 1931, it is cancelled.

Q. Suppose this interest is owed to a bank, not to the government?

A. The government assumes the obligation, paying off the interest.

Q. When do I get my bonds?

A. As soon as the treasury can print them and mail them in accordance with certification from the veterans' administration.

Q. What can I do with them after I get them?

A. Any time after June 15 next the holder can take them to a local post office and cash them in full or in part. Banks will not cash them because they are special bonds and are not marketable.

Q. Suppose I do not cash them right away?

A. You will get 3 per cent annual interest until 1945, but if you cash them the first year after next June 15 no interest is paid.

Q. Can a creditor of a veteran get possession of the bonds?

A. The bill says they are not subject to attachment, levy, or seizure under any legal process.

Q. How many bonus certificates are in the hands of veterans?

A. They are held by 3,500,000 veterans of the World war. The average face value is $960.

F. D. R. IS SILENT ON VETO PLANS

Legislators, however Confident of Enough Voting Strength

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Intimates of President Roosevelt hazarded the guess today that he would veto the baby bond bill which reached his desk from congress yesterday, but the President himself gave not the slightest hint of his attitude.

On Capitol hill, where the measure swept through the house yesterday, 346 to 89, after previously passing the senate, 74 to 16, leaders reiterated that the veto question was merely academic, so far as the fate of the bill is concerned.

Legislators Confident

Legislators were so confident that the bill would pass over a veto that they were already speculating as to whether Mr. Roosevelt will demand new taxes to finance the payments to veterans.

According to the lowest estimates $1,000,000,000 will be needed within a few months if the bill becomes law. The government, after passing out baby bonds, of $50 denomination, to pay off 3,500,000 adjusted service certificates, will stand ready to cash the bonds next June 15.

While the ultimate cost is estimated at $2,491,000,000, bonus leaders continued to insist that holders of only about $1,000,000,000 will call for cash on or immediately after June 15. Some others say the quick demand for cash will total $2,000,000,000, despite the fact that veterans will draw 3 per cent interest if they hold the bonds.

The President, who made no provision for such expenditures in his budget, has intimated that he feels new taxes will be necessary if extra-budgetary expenses are incurred.

Refers Not to Levy

Many legislators, however, would much prefer not to levy new taxes on their constituents in a campaign year.

With Mr. Roosevelt's own legislative leaders lined up behind the measure, there was much speculation as to what effect the whole problem will have on the November elections. Politicians tried to figure how the voters will feel if, as many predict, the President vetoes the bill, and his supporters then over-ride him.

The President has 10 days in which to decide. If he does not sign or veto within that time, the bill becomes law. In the meantime, he has sent it on a routine journey through the veterans administration for a checkup. Thus, it is likely to be several days before he takes action.

Kipling Buried

LONDON, Jan. 23.—Rudyard Kipling was buried today alongside other immortals of English literature.

While the body of his sovereign, the late King George V, was being borne to Westminster hall, the ashes of Kipling were placed reverently in the dim and quiet poet's corner of Westminster Abbey.

Theater Attractions

Aline McMahon and Wallace Berry who appear in "Ah Wilderness" at the State Friday and Saturday.

Eugene O'Neill's famous play, "Ah Wilderness," a drama of the average American family, will be presented at the State Friday and Saturday. The cast includes Wallace Berry, Lionel Barrymore, Aline McMahon, Erice Linden and Cecelia Parker.

Eric Linden, returning to the screen after a two year exile, self inflicted, due to a broken heart received in an unfortunate love affair, and Cecelia Parker play the high school lovers. Linden is reported to do excellent work as the 18-year-old boy, just trying his wings.

Lily, the pathetic aunt in Eric's family, is played by Aline McMahon. Barrymore portrays the father.

Small Town Family

The story deals with an American family in a small New England town in 1906. Linden, graduating from high school and in the throes of his first love affair, goes through all the happiness and despair that any young boy experiences. Miss McMahon, the aunt, and Wallace Berry, a shiftless reporter, portray a romance in middle life that never ripened into marriage because of the laziness of Berry and his taste for drink.

ice to safety at Put-in-Bay. Henry Fox, about 60, was unaccounted for and sought by searching parties. Twenty-one men and a woman who had been fishing through the ice yesterday were guided through the blizzard by Kelley island residents.

At Cincinnati the temperature was 15 below zero today, the coldest in 18 years. Dayton reported 20 below. Middletown 18 below. At Hamilton the wind was so high it broke windows. Drifts four and five feet high blocked roads in western Hamilton county.

In suburbs of Cincinnati it was 20 below.

At Toledo the mercury hit 11 below at midnight. Twenty small fires were reported there. Roads were blocked in many places.

17 Below at Columbus

At Columbus the temperature was 17 below, the lowest on a Jan. 22 since 1885, when it was minus eight. Herman Josephson, manager of a Columbus clothing store, dug a supply of earmuffs off his shelves and offered them free to policemen.

Belmont county school authorities dismissed classes today for their 14,000 pupils.

Wilmington reported 19 below, Lima and Coshocton 18 below, Akron and Youngstown 12 below, and Cleveland 10 below.

In Columbus William Forgrave, 66, died from a heart attack which physicians blamed on the extreme cold.

A wind of more than 30 miles an hour halted traffic on the Sandusky bay bridge. Scores of cars were stalled on roads leading to the span.

John Paul, 70, who lived near Batavia, was killed instantly when his automobile crashed into an oil truck on an icy highway.

Six persons in night attire were taken down ladders by firemen in a blaze in Akron. A 43-year-old invalid mother of five children was carried from her burning home in Cleveland and 20 other persons were routed.

Eight persons were driven to the street at North Baltimore, near Findlay, when flames destroyed a building housing a shoe store and physicians' offices.

The weather bureau at Columbus reported the 23 inches of snow so far this year was the greatest in 18 years.

Cornell And Syracuse Football Coaches Are On The Spot

DOBBIE, HANSON LIKELY TO LOSE COACHING JOBS

Situation Is Typical of Fans' Attitude Toward Coaches

BY ALAN GOULD.
Associated Press Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Gil Dobbie, if any, as Cornell's head football coach isn't the only subject agitating the college "hot stove league" in the crowded sections of upper New York state.
Lately there has been some out-cries for the removal of Syracuse's head coach, where the failure of teams coached by the former All-American to beat their arch-rival, Cornell, is an irritating factor among followers of the Orange.
Hanson's support is considered so strong, his personal popularity among the athletes so great, that removal of his regime may not be as far off for the time being. The Cornell Orange coach, bested annually by Colgate's veteran Andy Patton in the annual up-state "big game," nevertheless knows that the anvil chorus sounds like "The situation in which he finds himself is typical of American football, where the ability of the coach to 'take it' is severely limited."
Hanson has been head coach at Syracuse for the past six years after gaining a spectacular reputation as an end. In that same period the Orange has taken an annual beating from its Maroon neighbors. Dobbie's position at Cornell remains uncertain but the signs now point to the exit of the veteran from the domain he has ruled since 1920. Cornell, in short, contemplates a thorough re-organization of its football set-up as part of the new athletic administrative program.
Nothing official has been forthcoming yet as to Dobbie's future from the new athletic director, Jim Graham, but Gil is not in the picture that is taking form "above the clouds."

CHAMPIONS RUN AT SANTA ANITA

Seven Record Holders Are Listed Among Starters in Handicap

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Seven racing champions or world record holders are among the probable starters in the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap, which will have its second running in California on Wednesday, Jan. 24.
Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's Discovery, handicap champion of 1935 and holder of world records for one and one-eighth miles (1:48.1-5) and one and three-eighths miles (2:01.1-5) is the standout favorite.
Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane's Cavalade, three-year-old champion of 1934 when he defeated Discovery regularly, appears fit enough to give a year of misfortunes to give his rival a real battle for the title.
Shows Ability
Fred M. Alger, Jr.'s Azucar, winner of $108,400 in the inaugural running of the race, showed he would be a factor when he won the San Felipe handicap at Santa Anita Saturday.
A. A. Baroni's Top Row, twice winner of Discovery last year, has given big advantages in the past and will carry 116 pounds in the most classic.
Other nominees considered as having good chances to upset Discovery, each of them holding championships at some time, include Cleveland Putnam's Ladysman, second in the rich stake last year and a two-year-old titleholder when he raced in the colors of W. R. Coe; John Hay Whitney's Singing Bird, best of the juveniles in 1933; and Norman Church's Toro Nancy, champion money-winning filly of 1934.

ANOTHER TEAM TO ENTER A.B.C.

Mullins to Sponsor Salem Five Which Will Roll In Tourney

Salem will be represented by five men teams in the annual A.B.C. tournament at Indianapolis March 1.
It became known today with announcement that reservations had been sought for a team to be sponsored by Mullins, with Carpenter as captain.
Week-end dates were requested. Carpenter hopes that March 2 and 3 may be allotted so his team can make the trip with the other teams which has been in the dates.
The team that will wear Mullins' colors in the tournament includes Harry Harrell, James Armstrong, Thiel, Chas. West, Frank Bolen and John Carpenter.
Work is being rushed on the construction of new bowling alleys at the Ford garage on S. Ellis, where Earl Grate is installing the alleys for public use.
The recreation hall will include pin setters, foul lights, certain pin setters, foul lights, Grate expects to have his new hall about Feb. 1.

As the years roll past, Willie Hoppe, now 48, seems to improve in his billiards. After being a leader on the green topped tables since 1906, during which time he has won twenty titles, he at last realized his lifetime ambition to hold the world's three cushion title when he beat Welker Cochran at Chicago.

CANZONERI IS STILL KING OF LIGHTWEIGHTS

Champ Wins from Braco Garcia In 10-Round Non-Title Bout

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Tony Canzoneri, the gentleman farmer from Marlboro, N. Y., still stands out as the undisputed ruler of the lightweights but the menace of the tropic threat to his position seems to be increasing.
Braco Garcia, a courageous Mexican lad from San Antonio, Texas, earned respect as another "comer" from sunny southern climes last night before he finally succumbed to Tony's punches.

Technical Knockout

Canzoneri, tuning up for a title defense in the spring, took on Garcia in a 10-round non-title bout at the Star Casino. He won by a technical knockout in the ninth, but only after a stiff battle.
Garcia's willingness to stand up and punch earned him the cheers of the capacity crowd of 3,500 and a place on the list of probable future challengers along with Indian Hurdado of Panama and Pedro Montanez of Puerto Rico, who have been cutting wide swaths through the ranks of the lesser lights in the division.

Canzoneri's clever boxing and sharp punching proved too much for Garcia. Failing in an early shot for a knockout, Tony boxed carefully, backing away from the Mexican's furious rushes and sparing him as he came in. He found an opening in the sixth and landed a right to the jaw that made Garcia's knees buckle, and from there on Tony had things his own way.

Outpunches Champ

Gracio fought all the more furiously after being speared the first time and outpunched the champion throughout the remainder of the round. In the seventh, however, Tony swung his right again and Garcia went down for a count of nine.
Canzoneri slung that damaging right to the jaw twice more in the eighth and each time Garcia hit the canvas. Only the end of the round saved him then, and after he was belted over twice more in the ninth Referee Billy Kavanaugh called a halt.

Both fighters were above the lightweight limit, Canzoneri weighing 138 and Garcia 137.

PEACOCK STARS IN TRACK MEET

Temple Ace Stages Brilliant Finish to Win 40-Yard Dash

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 23.—Eulace Peacock and Frank Nordell, billed as top-liners of Philadelphia's first important indoor track meet in four years, came through in rousing fashion.
Peacock, Temple university ace, came from last place last night to lead a fast field home in the 40-yard dash. He hit his stride at the 10-yard mark, after breaking away slowly, overtook the field at 20, was in front at 30, and finished in 4.7 seconds. Jim Ward of West Chester State Teachers finished second.

Last For Seven Laps

Nordell, former New York university miler, ran last for seven laps in the 3,000 meter special while Tom Otley, ex-Michigan State distance star, assumed a commanding lead. At the half-way mark, Nordell drove to the front, then extended his lead and finished 90 yards ahead of Otley.
Al Thredgill, another Temple performer who became a recognized threat in the high jump, did not win as handily as he expected to but nosed out Harold Osborne, one-time Illinois star. Thredgill won with the bar at 6 feet 4.

Flying Mercy Priest

After 50,000 miles of plane travel as passenger and co-pilot, the Rev. Father J. M. Couture, 50, jovial Jesuit missionary, flew out of the Canadian north woods to qualify for pilot's license at Toronto. He'll use plane on errands of mercy.

CAPITAL AREA MAY LEGALIZE HORSE RACING

Woman Representative Is Author of Bill At Washington

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Representative Norton (D., N. J.), author of a bill to legalize horse racing in the District of Columbia, says she never placed a bet.

In fact, the matronly legislator says she is opposed to horse race gambling.
But one has to take a realistic viewpoint, she says. "There is and will be racing and betting. And, if the people of the district want racing, I see no reason why they should not have it." Mrs. Norton believes it better to have legalized racing and betting here than for Washingtonians to bet with the bookmakers.

Go to Maryland

"Those who enjoy racing and gambling are going into Maryland and elsewhere," she said. "By refusing a track here, we would not be helping the situation any. There probably would be less unlawful gambling here if we had a track."
Mrs. Norton, chairman of the house district committee, estimated that her bill would bring in around $1,000,000 annually in taxation to the district.
The famous old Benning track has been idle since 1908, when racing was banned. If congressional approval is obtained, plans have been announced to build a $2,000,000 plant there.

East Palestine Has Undeclared Record At Stake Tomorrow

Bulldogs Have Won All of Their Five Games to Date; Quakers Are Expected to Serve As Their First Real Test

EAST PALESTINE, Jan. 23.—On top in all of their five games to date, the East Palestine High Bulldogs will have an undeclared record at stake when they meet the Salem High school Quaker basketball team at the Adamson clubhouse tomorrow night.

The Bulldogs have defeated the Alumni, Rochester, Pa. Boardman, Columbiana and Wellsville.
Coach Perry Van Hynning is expecting the Quaker cagers to serve as the first real test for his Bulldog quintet and has been pushing his lads hard during practice this week in order to have them in the best of shape for their engagement tomorrow night.

The contest will have an important bearing on the Columbiana County championship race since the Bulldogs are now tied with the East Liverpool Pottery for first honors. The Quakers have but little chance to cop the county title this season, having already been defeated by the Pottery, who will play the Van Hynning team late in February.

Tied with Sebring for the lead in the Tri-County league at the present time, the Bulldogs have this season one of the best teams they have put on the court in recent years.

Has Built Team

Although he was rather gloomy over the outlook at the start of practice for the present campaign, Coach Van Hynning has built a formidable quintet around two veterans from last year, Dickens and Switzer.

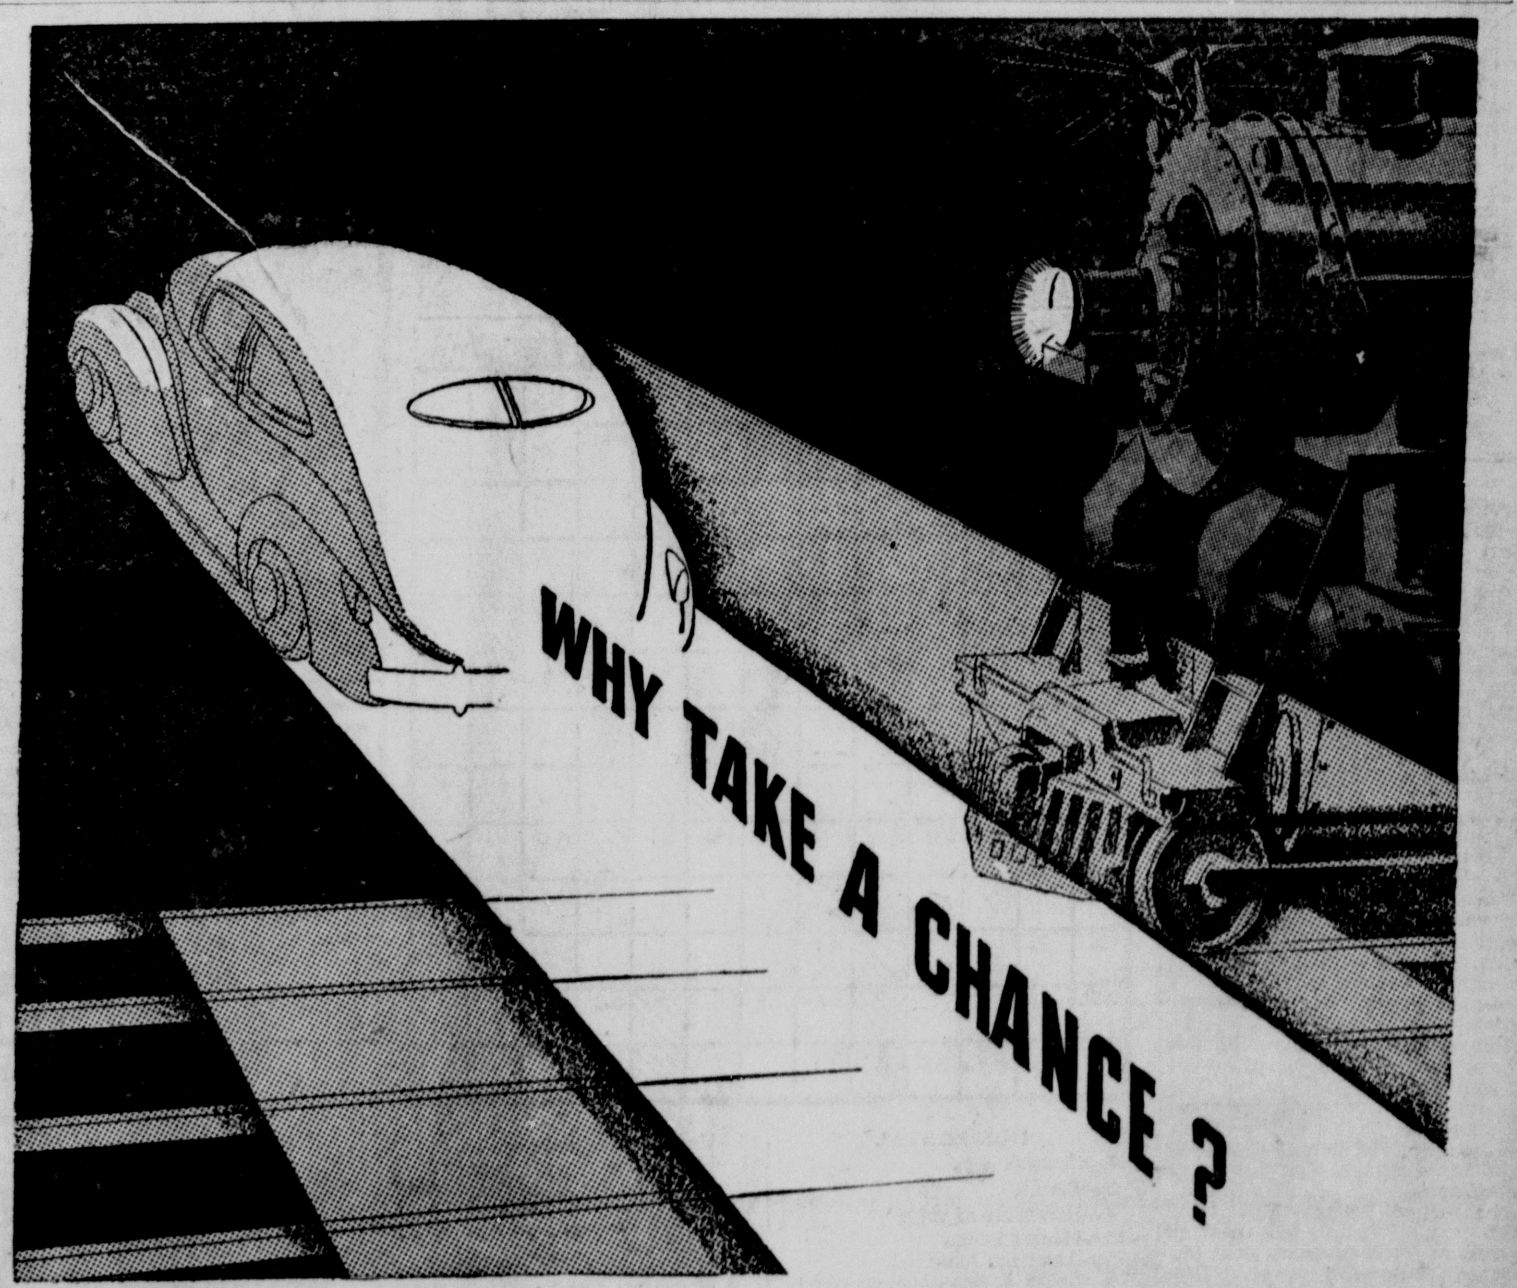

Switzer, who holds down the center berth was one of the leading scorers of the Tri-County loop last year and is among the fast 15 high-scorers in the league so far this season.

Dickens, named on the All-Star Tri-County cage squad last year, is being used at forward and has scored 53 points in four games (Alumni not included) this season.

Hold Ski Contest On Chicago Field

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—Ski jumping, a sport usually associated with the wide open spaces, will be brought almost to the heart of Chicago, February 16.

The "downtown" jumping contest will be held by The Chicago Daily Times at Soldier field. A 150 foot tower will be erected outside the huge lakefront stadium. The bottom of the slide will run into the middle of the football gridiron.

CHAPTER XLIV

"Why don't you get some sort of job, Helen? You are asked earnestly. 'You look awful!'"

Helen smiled listlessly. The two were having lunch in Schrafft's on the Saturday before Christmas. "Everyone tells me to get a job! What good will that do? It isn't money I need."

"It will give you something to do. Helen. Something to think about. This brooding act is taking too long. I'm not kidding, Helen, but that pallor of yours and that sort of dull apathy—you look like a cross between Nazimova and the ex-Czarina—a blond edition, of course."

"Do I really look bad?" Helen asked wistfully.

"Darling, you may be suffering from shattered ideals but I think frankly it's mostly inertia. The shattered ideals aren't so easy to cure. I know, although I should think you'd be so happy at being free from those Rileys that your ideals would mend themselves very nicely together again. But the inertia is inexcusable. If you did something—get out, get interested in something, you'd be able to forget much more easily. And you're not eating your lunch!"

Helen dutifully took a mouthful. "What could I do?" she asked finally. "Go back to manicuring? It would be a grand finale to my little tragedy. From rags to riches and then back to buffers." Her lips twitched.

"There must be something else you can do besides manicuring, Helen. You could go back to school. You could take courses. Dear, you've got to do something! Isn't there anything for you to do at the apartment?"

"I wish there was but Mother Terhune clings to the management of the house and Frederick takes care of the children. Oh, I do work hard at being a ray of sunshine. My face aches from trying to smile. But Daddy and Mother Terhune are still all broken up over Dirk. Oh, Belle, all their old gaiety is gone. It breaks my heart. If it weren't for the children and me, I don't think they could go on. Ces too has aged terribly, don't you think?"

"Why don't you come and live with us, Helen? Maybe the atmosphere down there is too depressing for you."

"Oh, I'd never leave them! Besides a young married couple should never be burdened with relatives. Didn't I learn that somewhere?" She smiled crookedly.

"You'd never be a relative, Helen. Belle's eyes filled with tears. 'But I wish you'd snap out of it and get interested in something. It isn't normal for a beautiful young woman to be so... so... sad and so still.'"

"I feel so old, Belle. I've had a whole lifetime of living, it seems to me. I've had love, passion, hatred, struggle, divorce. I pretend to myself that I'm old and ugly. It brings me calm at least. I suppose that's the compensation of age—to be free of turbulence, to be nice and calm and resigned."

Guy came to meet Belle after the matinee. They begged Helen to go with them to dinner and to the Philharmonic concert that night but Helen was adamant.

"My dears, I can't. I've got an appointment with the Lockwoods tonight."

But she didn't have an appointment. She left Belle and Guy at Broadway and Fortieth street and took a taxi while they watched. As soon as the taxi reached Fifth avenue, she dismissed it and started to walk slowly downtown. The shop windows were rich with Christmas cheer and the crowds that surged by were gay and lusty and carried many bundles. Helen walked on the inside, studying the windows and the people who passed her. She had completed all her shopping. She had bought gifts for everyone. Of course, this year she didn't have the Rileys—what a chore it had been to buy them all gifts!

Helen increased her pace as the cold wind whipped against her slim ankles. She buried her chin in the warm fur collar of her mink coat; the coat that had been Walter's Christmas present to her last year—just twelve months ago.

They planned the luncheon, the games they would play, the toys they would give him. After lunch, rigidly supervised by Miss Graetz for calories and vitamins, the children romped in Gracie's room which was the playroom while Miss Graetz and Miss Fredericks exchanged confidences.

Helen got the only news she had from the Rileys through this channel. She listened politely while Fredericks retold the gossip she had gleaned from Graetz.

Although Cecily saw Irene's lawyer frequently—she never mentioned either Irene or Walter to Helen. Sometimes Helen wondered whether Cecily had seen Irene, but so completely did each respect the other's feelings that neither said a word.

Helen had poured into Cecily's ears the whole story on that dreadful night in August when she had arrived at the Terhunes'. She had driven from Long Beach to New Canaan with both children sleeping in the back of the car. The Terhunes took them in, made them comfortable. In Cecily's room, her face buried in Cecily's capacious lap, Helen had sobbed out bit by bit the whole sordid tragedy of Dirk's death and Walter's accusation.

Cecily never mentioned any part of it again to Helen. Gaunt, strong, steadfast, she stood beside Helen; introduced her to Lester Molyneux, one of Dirk's friends who was a successful lawyer. Molyneux arranged the case with lawyers in Reno, and the divorce had proceeded without a hitch. The only time Cecily interfered was when Helen refused alimony. Cecily heard from Molyneux who in turn had heard from Powell.

"He's got to support his children," Cecily wired Helen. The telegram covered two telegraph blanks. All her bitterness against the Rileys crept out in this telegram. The closing words, "I insist upon you accepting a decent sum for the comfort of your children," was so unlike Cecily, who never insisted upon anything, that Helen obeyed her command and accepted one hundred dollars a week for the children's maintenance.

More and more Helen relied on Cecily. She gave Cecily the weekly check that came from Walter's lawyer and Cecily managed everything. Helen's needs were few. She had plenty of clothes—what did she need clothes for anyway?

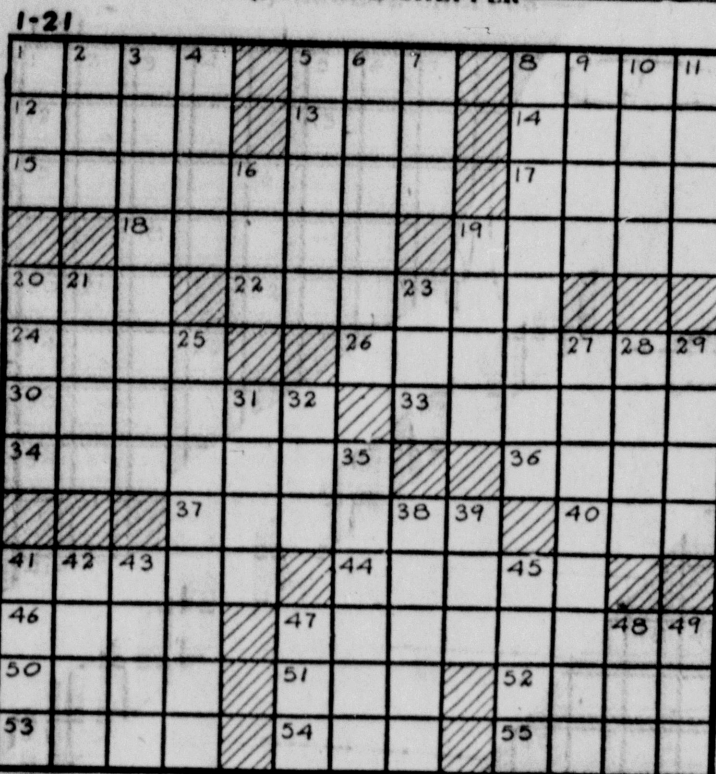

She did register Gracie in the play school that Irene had recommended so highly. Wells had been registered there since his birth.

"Since Walter pays for the children, I think I ought to send Gracie to a school of which Walter approves," she explained apologetically.

Cecily shrugged. "Fortunately it's an excellent school," she remarked pointedly.

WEATHER HALTS COURT CONTEST

Bluffton-Huntington Game Postponed Because of Cold

Old Man Winter blew one basketball game off last night's schedule, but in three others the University of Cincinnati tightened its hold on first place in the Buckeye conference. Ohio Wesleyan placed undisputed, and Wittenberg held on to first place in the Ohio conference.

Bluffton and Huntington (Ind.) postponed their game because of the cold and snow.

Down Ohio U. The Cincinnati Bearcats, holding an advantage of 34 points, defeated Ohio university, 34 to 29, in a tough battle at Athens. The lead changed hands six times in the second half, with each team ahead three times. The high-point man of the night played for the losers, Forward Hood with 14 points.

Ohio Wesleyan, trailing 15-19 at the half, drummed up 39 more points in the second half to beat Marshall, 45 to 34, at Delaware.

Marshall did some flashy work in the first half, but Wesleyan's coach, Ray Dietrick, analyzed the West Virginia boys' attack during the intermission and produced results.

Stark of Wesleyan was high man with 14. Johnny Zak of Cleveland, sophomore Wesleyan substitute, starred in the closing minutes.

Otterbein fought hard against Wittenberg, but the Lutherans had a tight defense and took the game, 39 to 36. Donahue and Werner starred for Wittenberg, but Loucks and Rulter of Oterbein were the high point men, with 12 apiece.

A close contest between the Buckeyes and Dukes in which the latter quintet emerged the victor, 14 to 13, was the feature of the seven game intramural basketball program at the High school gymnasium last night.

Highlights of the other games: HUTCHESON tallied 10 points to lead the Aces to a 24 to 8 victory over the Shags.

THE HICKS experienced little trouble in downing the Spurs, 25 to 12.

TERRY collected 10 points as the Baggers triumphed over the Rough Riders, 20 to 12.

HICKLING & BEATTIE starred when the Musketiers edged out the Dubs, 27 to 22. Neither team scored during the first period of this contest.

SANTINI hit the hoop for seven field goals and one free throw to total 15 points for the Potshots who were defeated by the Comets, 25 to 20.

B. WILSON paced the Tigers to an 18 to 9 victory over the Kools.

Aged Couple Wed

CAMBRIDGE, Jan. 23.—Sentence Polk Barker, 88-year-old Civil war veteran, and Mrs. Etta S. Doremus, 62, looked forward today to a honeymoon in Florida after their wedding. They secured a license yesterday. Barker said he had been married five times previously and Mrs. Doremus twice. Barker enlisted in the Union army at the age of 14.

STRENGTHEN THE BLADDER

Make This 25c Test. Drink lots of boiled or distilled water, if irritation causes getting up nights, frequent desire, scanty flow, burning or backache. You know what hard water does to a teakettle. Drive out excess acids and deposits with buchu leaves, juniper oil etc. made into green tablets called BUKETS, the bladder lax. Works on the bladder similar to castor oil on the bowels. In four days if not blessed any druggist will refund you 25c. J. H. Lease Drug Co.—Adv.

WOULD ABOLISH CENTER TIP-OFF

Iowa Conference Coaches Unanimous For Elimination

DES MOINES, Jan. 23. — Iowa conference coaches believe that all basketball will be played without the center jump within a few years.

Pioneers along with the Pacific Coast conference in eliminating the center toss-up, the 12 teams in the state loop were having one of their most interesting seasons as a result of the innovation.

A survey showed the coaches unanimous in approval of eliminating the center.

The conference coaches advanced the following points to demonstrate the superiority of their style of basketball:

1. Adds six minutes actual playing time.
2. Produces faster play and higher scores.
3. Gives teams without a tall center an even chance.
4. Eliminates roughness on the tip-off plays.
5. Improves the game for spectators.

American Association Fans To Get a "Break" This Year

COLUMBUS, Jan. 23. — George M. (Red) Trautman, new president of the American association, said today that the league is going to give the fans a "break" this year.

"It's time we started thinking more about the customers," Trautman said.

"Baseball games are getting too 'draggy,' he said, 'and we're going to speed them up.'"

"I've ordered a clock placed in every association park, right out where the fans and players can see it."

"Another thing we need is more color not only in the players themselves, but in the uniforms they wear. One reason we should have more colorful and attractive uniforms is because more and more we are catering to women fans."

"We also need stronger 'knot-hole' gangs throughout the league for after all the kids, from whom the teams draw their talent, are entitled to something. Knott-hole gangs are real character builders."

"In making the game more attractive for the fan, we will be doing plenty for baseball too, we have our dyed-in-the-wool fans 'but it's the 'in-betweens' that we are after. Once we get them there it's our own fault if we can't bring them back."

Trautman said he will frown on

"synthetic" double-headers, but that the final decision will be left up to the clubs.

"I expect more night baseball this season than ever before," Trautman said.

THIS LIST OF HOUSES SHOULD INTEREST THE RENTER! READ IT CAREFULLY!

5-room house on E. Third St. All modern. 2-car garage. Price $2,500.

Good 6-room house. Brick veneered. Hard wood. Practically new. Paved street and nice location. $4,500.

Two-family house. Five rooms on each side, all separate. Furnace, electricity and bath. Located on Ash Street. Already rented at $25.00. Price $2,300.

Five room, one-floor bungalow, together with five lots. $2,500.

Five-room bungalow in the best section of town. Very handy to Fourth St. school. Two-car garage. $3,700.

Six-room veneered brick, all modern. Two-car garage. Located handy to McKinley school. Price $5,000.

Now, all of these houses are priced at about one-half of what it would cost to build them and the terms can be adjusted almost like rent. The cry is that there is a shortage of houses to rent so why not own your own home. This is my advice to you. Buy a home now and let the other luxuries come along later. A Review of the Day's News

By Arthur Brisbane

KING EDWARD the Eighth, now solemnly proclaimed King, will be remembered as the first king of England that ever flew through the air toward the throne.

He took a separate oath "to respect the Church of Scotland." There is had fighting back of that.

The new king walked with bare head from one palace to another, dressed in formal mourning clothes. The Archbishop of Canterbury, official head of the Church of England, was at Sandringham to give his last blessing to King George and in London to share in formal acknowledgement to the new king, who ordered nine months of mourning at the royal court. That will give him a respite from official boredom.

EDWARD THE EIGHTH will mount the throne for the first time at a joint session of the Lords and Commons, and solemnly promise to "maintain the true intent of your enactments to the best of my powers."

After his coronation, the king must formally declare his adherence to the Protestant church, and his adherence includes the solemn obligation "never to marry a Roman Catholic." That dates back to the Stuarts.

King Edward, who is not supposed to contemplate marriage, is the official head of the churches of England and Scotland, and "Defender of the Faith."

A NEW chapter in the history of the world. All nations are influenced by anything affecting a government that controls one-quarter of the earth's surface and hundreds of millions of its people, white, black, yellow and brown.

FROM ALL the world, "subjects" of the new King and Emperor, send greetings: "Respectful condolences" from Gandhi, on his sick bed, representing the submissive Hindu; from the Aga Khan, head of the turbulent Mohammedans of India, descendant of the Prophet's nephew, words of praise for "the King Emperor, not only a great ruler, but also a great man."

In Singapore, a plane of the Royal Air Force dashes through the air a long black streamer, and the crowd knows the King is dead. Representatives of divine power, churches of every religion, Mohammedan, Hindu, Buddhist, Chinese, Christian and Jewish speed the dead king on his journey and welcome the new ruler.

THE ANCIENT power of great London city is not forgotten. The new king and emperor, as his first official act, sends this telegram:

"Lord Mayor, London.
"I am deeply grieved to inform you that my beloved father, the King, passed away peacefully at 11:55 o'clock to-night."

"EDWARD."
Old English kings felt safe if they had their good subjects in the rich city loyal and ready to finance their wars. They have not forgotten it.

ART The Jeweler
482 E. State, Salem, O.

land as source and inspiration of "sentiments," issues this message of sympathy:

"We forget all the difficulties between the two nations and remember only the noble figure of the King and his admirable character."

IT WOULD be difficult to have any but friendly memories of the dead king on reading again his last radio message to his empire and the outside world, sent at Christmas time, with the simple beginning:

"I wish you all, my dear friends, a happy Christmas." The King in his jubilee congratulations saw not only "a warm and generous remembrance of the man himself who, may God help him, has been placed upon it."

WEAK AND ill at that time, unable after the broadcast to join his children and grandchildren in their Christmas celebration, the King spoke, knowing he had not long to live:

"To those that are suffering or in distress, whether in this country or in any part of the empire, I offer my deepest sympathy."

His "truest Christmas wishes and those of my dear wife, my children and grandchildren," he addresses especially "to the children who may be listening to me."

He was a GOOD King, with none but good intentions, and above all, he recognized the supremacy of the people, as a whole, doing his duty, and not presuming to dictate or impose his own will. A truly good King.

GOITRE

MAKE THIS QUICK TEST
Get a small bottle Sorbol-Quadruple, a colorless liniment. For simple goitre apply twice daily. Thousands have been relieved. It quickly supplies substance needed by the thyroid gland. Does not interfere with work or pleasure. Get further information at Peoples Service Drug Store. "Approved by a registered physician."
Note: Mrs. Dot Cox, 36 Prospect St., Delaware, Ohio; Mrs. Carrie Barnhouse, 121 West C. St., Wellington, Ohio; Mrs. Frank Beard, 1619 Kart St., Springfield, Ohio; or Mrs. Pearl Bishop, 1615 Madison Ave., Columbus, Ohio, will gladly tell about their success with Sorbol-Quadruple.—Adv.
